ARKANSAS LIBRARIES

Editorial Guidelines for Authors

Arkansas Libraries is the official publication of the Arkansas Library Association (ALA). It contains articles of current interest, historical significance or literary value concerning all aspects of librarianship, especially items pertinent to Arkansas. The journal maintains a balance between philosophical and practical articles.

Manuscript Format: Manuscripts generally run from 2000-4000 words. Manuscripts should conform to a consistent style. The editors recommend The Chicago Manual of Style, 13th ed. (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1982).

Submission of Manuscripts: Text may be submitted as hard copy or on floppy disk. Hardcopy manuscripts should be typewritten, double-spaced, with an identifying heading on each page. Manuscripts written in Microsoft Word or Pagemaker may be submitted on disk in either DOS or Macintosh format (Macintosh format is preferred). Manuscripts on disk should be accompanied by a printed copy. Photographs should be accompanied by a brief description. Graphic material should be submitted in camera-ready form. Authors should enclose a brief biographical sketch, including present affiliation.

Arkansas Libraries accepts submission of manuscripts with the understanding that the manuscripts have not been submitted, accepted for publication, or published elsewhere.

Send manuscripts to: Kathie George
1508 Evans, Arkadelphia, AR 71923 OR
Huie Library, Henderson State U., 1100 Henderson St., Arkadelphia, AR 71999

Editorial Handling of Manuscript: No manuscript will be returned unless accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. All manuscripts will be evaluated by the editors; notification will be sent upon acceptance of a manuscript for publication.

The editors retain the right to edit manuscripts to conform to style and space limitations. Manuscripts requiring extensive editorial work will be returned to the author for approval of editorial revisions.

Copyright: All articles will be copyrighted by the Arkansas Library Association. Written permission must be obtained from the editors for re-publication of any article (in whole or in part).

LaNell Compton Award: The Arkansas Library Association honors the best contribution to library literature published in Arkansas Libraries with the LaNell Compton Award, which is given biennially. All articles published in Arkansas Libraries during the previous two years will be considered. The award recipient receives a cash prize.
